DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. Claims 1-4, 6-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stanton in view of Lingemann as discussed in paragraph 3 of the previous office action. Regarding the newly added limitation of injecting at an angle, Lingemann discloses injecting adhesive into the corner, which would require the injection to be done at a sufficient angle as claimed.
2. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stanton in view of Lingemann as applied to claims above, and further in view of Matovich, Jr as discussed in paragraph 4 of the last office action.

Applicant's arguments filed 3/14/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that the references are not related, the test for obviousness is not whether the features of a secondary reference may be bodily incorporated into the structure of the primary reference; nor is it that the claimed invention must be expressly suggested in any one or all of the references. Rather, the test is what the combined teachings of the references would have suggested to those of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981). In this case, the secondary reference is being used to teach the concept of using adhesive means in a corner for reinforcing purposes and would have been obvious to provide this reinforcing means to Stanton to solidify the structure.

In response to applicant's affidavit, the examiner understands that Stanton has a spacer in the corner; however, the claims do not preclude the use of a spacer.

Furthermore, the references do not have to be bodily incorporated as discussed supra.

Art Unit: 3721

Primary reference Stanton shows the top closure element being secured to a side element since the closure element will spread glue. The secondary reference is being used to teach the basic concept of applying glue in corners to reinforce a structure. The actual structure is merely a matter of users preference and the modified combination teaches a side element and closure element being secured with the Stanton reference.

In response to claim 5, the tertiary reference Matovich is being used to teach the concept of having tabs to create an area for adhesion. The tabs 22 extend to a side element and form an interior corner. The claim does not recite that the tabs serve to locate the closure inside the side element.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
